Play alternately, with the palm of the right hand (m.r.) and the left hand (m.l.), chromatic clusters in the highest registers of the piano. The span of each hand is more or less equivalent of a minor sixth : for the left hand from F45 to D6, for the right hand from M16 to DO7.

From bar two to bar 21, in a long interpolation, the aggregates and notes which emerge very slightly behind and gradually take over above on the clusters.
